I have personally worked with Adam Waltho for over twelve years using Tradesmens Software. He constantly executes proficient and competent take-offs, with precise attention to detail. His accuracy is unmatched.

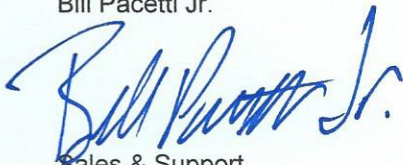

Because of his consistent professional and adept skills, we have regularly chosen him to participate in testing of beta versions prior to their release.

Mr. Waltho's credible character and business sense makes working with him easy and enjoyable. His time and efforts will be worth your investment.

Mr. Watho's fall card is a tough one. He is a Saints fan and not a Packer fan. This issue has been unresolved in our twelve years, however, if you can live with that, Adam is your guy.

Sincerely yours,

Bill Pacetti Jr.
